

14th October 2020

Quick Move Now becomes UK's first carbon neutral home buying company

Quick Move Now has become the first home buying company in the UK to be certified as carbon neutral.

The cash home buying firm has been working closely with environmental consultants Carbon Footprint to meet ambitious carbon emission targets.

Danny Luke, Quick Move Now's managing director, commented: "It has become increasingly evident that businesses have a duty to consider the impact of their practices on the world around them.

"Last year we set out a number of ambitious targets. We wanted to make a positive contribution to our local community, increase our support of charities that are important to our staff and reduce our environmental impact.

"Our key environmental commitments included changing energy supplier to only use renewable energy in our company office, supporting a number of local and national conservation charities and becoming a carbon neutral company in 2020. I am delighted to say that we have achieved each of these ambitions."

Dr Wendy Buckley, Director at Carbon Footprint Ltd, said: "Quick Move Now are taking responsible steps towards tackling the climate emergency that we face. They are committed to year-on-year reduction of emissions and will be offsetting unavoidable emissions to compensate for the residual impact on the environment."

For more information about Quick Move Now's commitment to reduce its environmental impact, you can read the company's corporate social responsibility statement in full here.

- End -

Notes to editors:

Quick Move Now was founded in 1998 to offer homeowners a quick and guaranteed property sale.

As the UK's original and largest property buying company, Quick Move Now has helped more than 6,000 homeowners.

Quick Move Now is a founding member of the National Association of Property Buyers and a member of The Property Ombudsman.